Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 20 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wet and increasingly windy tonight but West Coast remaining drier.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy over Caithness and in east of area towards Speyside with patchy rain. Drier over the Isles and West Coast with clear interludes. Fresh northeasterly winds. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Friday:
Mainly cloudy with outbreaks of rain, most persistent towards Inverness and Easter Ross. Drier weather along the West Coast with bright spells. Feeling cold in the fresh northeasterly wind. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry Saturday with sunshine and a few showers. Becoming cloudy during Sunday with rain extending across Lochaber but drier further north. Dry, bright for most on Monday. Staying cool.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.